FIRE BURNS 25,000 BUSHELS OF WHEAT IN QUANAH, TEXAS

BLAZE FOLLOWS RUMOR OF PENDING DISASTER CITED BY RAILROAD

QUANAH, July 4.—(P)—Fire destroyed an elevator and 25,000 bushels of wheat here yesterday as a rumor spread over the nation's wheat growing areas that an organized and concerted effort had been uncovered to damage wheat in storage.

The blaze destroyed the Kimball Mills elevator. Homer McGahey, local manager, said he had no idea of the origin of the fire except that it started near the top of the shaft. The mill is located four blocks east of the business district. No immediate estimate of the loss was made.

The fire occurred as agents of the Santa Fe railroad were notifying mill and elevator men that the railroad had started a rumor of "an organized and concerted effort" to damage wheat in storage.

The warning said the efforts would be likely to occur Wednesday or Thursday.

Officials of the railroad in Amarillo said they believed "a radical element on the Pacific coast may be planning to destroy wheat storage by fire or chemicals."

Rumor Said "Unfounded"

TOPEKA, Kas., July 4.—(P)—Loy E. Richter, director of the Kansas Bureau of Investigation, today branded as entirely unfounded and "preposterous" a rumor of an organized attempt to destroy the new wheat crop now stored in elevators.

Richter said that investigation of the report which had originated with the Santa Fe special service department at Amarillo, Texas, started yesterday. He said that no report of disturbances in Kansas had been received although a watch was being maintained.

Kansas highway patrol officers also were alerted to guard against such a catastrophe if and when they know informed local police officers and sheriffs to be on guard, but

Mill Strikers Observed Fourth On Picket Line

The strike involving the Corsicana Cotton Mills entered its seventh week Thursday morning as the pickets from Local 77, United Textile Workers of America, maintained their posts at all gates and entrances to the huge idle plant on South Main street.

Labor and management have conferred on a number of occasions relative to differences, but have been unable to reach an agreement. Labor maintains it struck for a contract and not for an increase in wages.

A holiday note was evidenced Thursday morning, July 4th, with patriotic Red, White and Blue bunting flags and other decorations in evidence about the gates while a tent, located at the southeast corner of the cyclone fence located east of the main mill, was covered with the patriotic bunting and was decorated with a number of American flags. A picture of the tent was made by a commercial photographer Thursday morning.

W. R. Herod, Laurel, Miss., international union representative, is scheduled to return to Corsicana during the week-end, and negotiations are expected to be renewed.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS BECOME NEW NATION IN JULY 4TH RITES

GENERAL, AMBASSADOR AND SENATOR ADDRESS REPUBLIC'S PEOPLE

BY JOHN GROVER

MANILA, P. I., July 4.—(P)—The American flag came down for the last time here today as this new nation of 7,083 tropical islands, swept by fire and sword through 400 years of oppression, came peacefully to full sovereignty.

The national aspirations of 18,000,000 Filipino citizens were realized in the independence ceremonial in Luneta Plaza, fronting on famed Manila Bay.

Hundreds of thousands saw President Manuel Roxas and Vice President Elpidio Quirino take the oath of office and heard addresses by General MacArthur, Ambassador Paul McNutt and U. S. Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland, co-author of the act which gave the world their independence.

From Washington, President Truman sent a message in which he pledged that the United States would assist the Philippine Republic "in every way possible." The two nations, he said, would be closely bound together for many years to come.

Nation Off To Slow Start On Slaughter Of Holiday Victims

By The Associated Press.

The nation made a slow start today toward the 800 immediate deaths forecast for the four-day Independence Day holiday. Only 21 deaths, including traffic accidents, drownings and miscellaneous, were reported from 8 p. m. last night until this morning.

Indications at noon were that Texas got off to one of the safest July 4th starts on record.

At that hour only three deaths, two by drowning and one in a traffic mishap, had been attributed directly to holiday activities.

Paul Gordon Woods, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Woods of Dallas, drowned in Lake Dallas, near Denton. He fell from a boat at 9 a. m. and his body was recovered 45 minutes later by Denton firemen.

William Fleckin, 19, also of Dallas, drowned last night while fishing on the Trinity river.

A Biggs Field soldier was killed in an auto mishap at El Paso.

Jews Release British Hostages

THREE FREED WHEN DEATH SENTENCES OF 2 SNIPERS COMMUTED

UNDERGROUND BELIEVED TO HAVE HELD OFFICERS BLINDFOLDED IN TRUCK

JERUSALEM, July 4.—(P)—The Palestine government announced that all three British officers held as hostages by Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization, were released in Tel Aviv today.

The officers are Capt. G. C. Warden, of the fourth parachute battalion, Capt. E. Taylor of the 17th parachute battalion, and Capt. H. A. Spencer of Leeds, England.

Kidnapped From Club

The three had been held since they were kidnapped from the officers' club in Tel Aviv June 18, along with two others who were released by the underground after a few days.

Their release followed by 24 hours the announcement that Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine high commissioner, had commuted the death sentences of two Jewish members of Irgun Zvai Leumi—convicted of firing on British soldiers—to life imprisonment.

The underground group in a radio broadcast expressed gratification earlier today at the commutation and promised to free the three hostages.

Carried In Crates

It was reported unofficially that the officers were carried inside crates and blindfolded on a truck to Tel Aviv. They were said to have been dumped out in front of the British Institute. One broke out, removed his blindfold and tried to pursue the disappearing truck, according to information. He was then reported to have aided the others in getting out of their crates. All reported at the Tel Aviv police station.

The British army disclosed that 50 of the 2,718 Jews arrested during the week had been released from the Rafa prison camp in southern Palestine and said others would be freed later.

CHARGE OF MURDER HAS BEEN FILED AGAINST JOHN L. BALL, HOUSTON

ODESSA, July 4.—(P)—Glen T. Thornton, 28, was shot to death and his wife beaten into unconsciousness while asleep in their room here last night.

Court Attorney W. O. Shafter today filed a charge of murder against John L. Nall of Houston, former husband of Mrs. Thornton. Sheriff Hugh Ratliff telephoned the Harris county sheriff's office to arrest Nall on sight.

Ratliff said Mrs. Thornton was beaten with a flashlight. She regained consciousness this morning in a local hospital.

Thornton was a mechanic for the Midland Equipment Company. He had been in Odessa for several years. He is a native of Temple, where his father, J. T. Thornton, lives.

PHILIPPINES

CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE around a flagpole erected on the spot where Jose Rizal, famous martyr of the Philippines fight for freedom, was executed by the Spaniards in 1896.

The arrival of General MacArthur caused the first major stir in the vast throng. His progress to the reviewing stand was interrupted by dignitaries and common folk eager to shake his hand.

Roxas In Triumph.

President Roxas made a triumphal entry to the Presidential box on the stand. On his right arm was his wife and on his left was Madama Aurora Quezon, widow of Manuel Quezon, first president of the Philippines commonwealth.

McNutt arrived with an American guard of honor. With him were Mrs. McNutt and their daughter, Louise. He acted as master of ceremonies for the American section of the program.

Prolonged applause greeted Senator Tydings, who declared:

Tydings Recalls Battles.

"Though our governments may never meet which for half a century bound us together, our governments can never alter or repeat the history of Bataan and Corregidor, or Leyte, or Lingayen Gulf and Manila."

As General MacArthur stepped to the microphone, the crowds went wild.

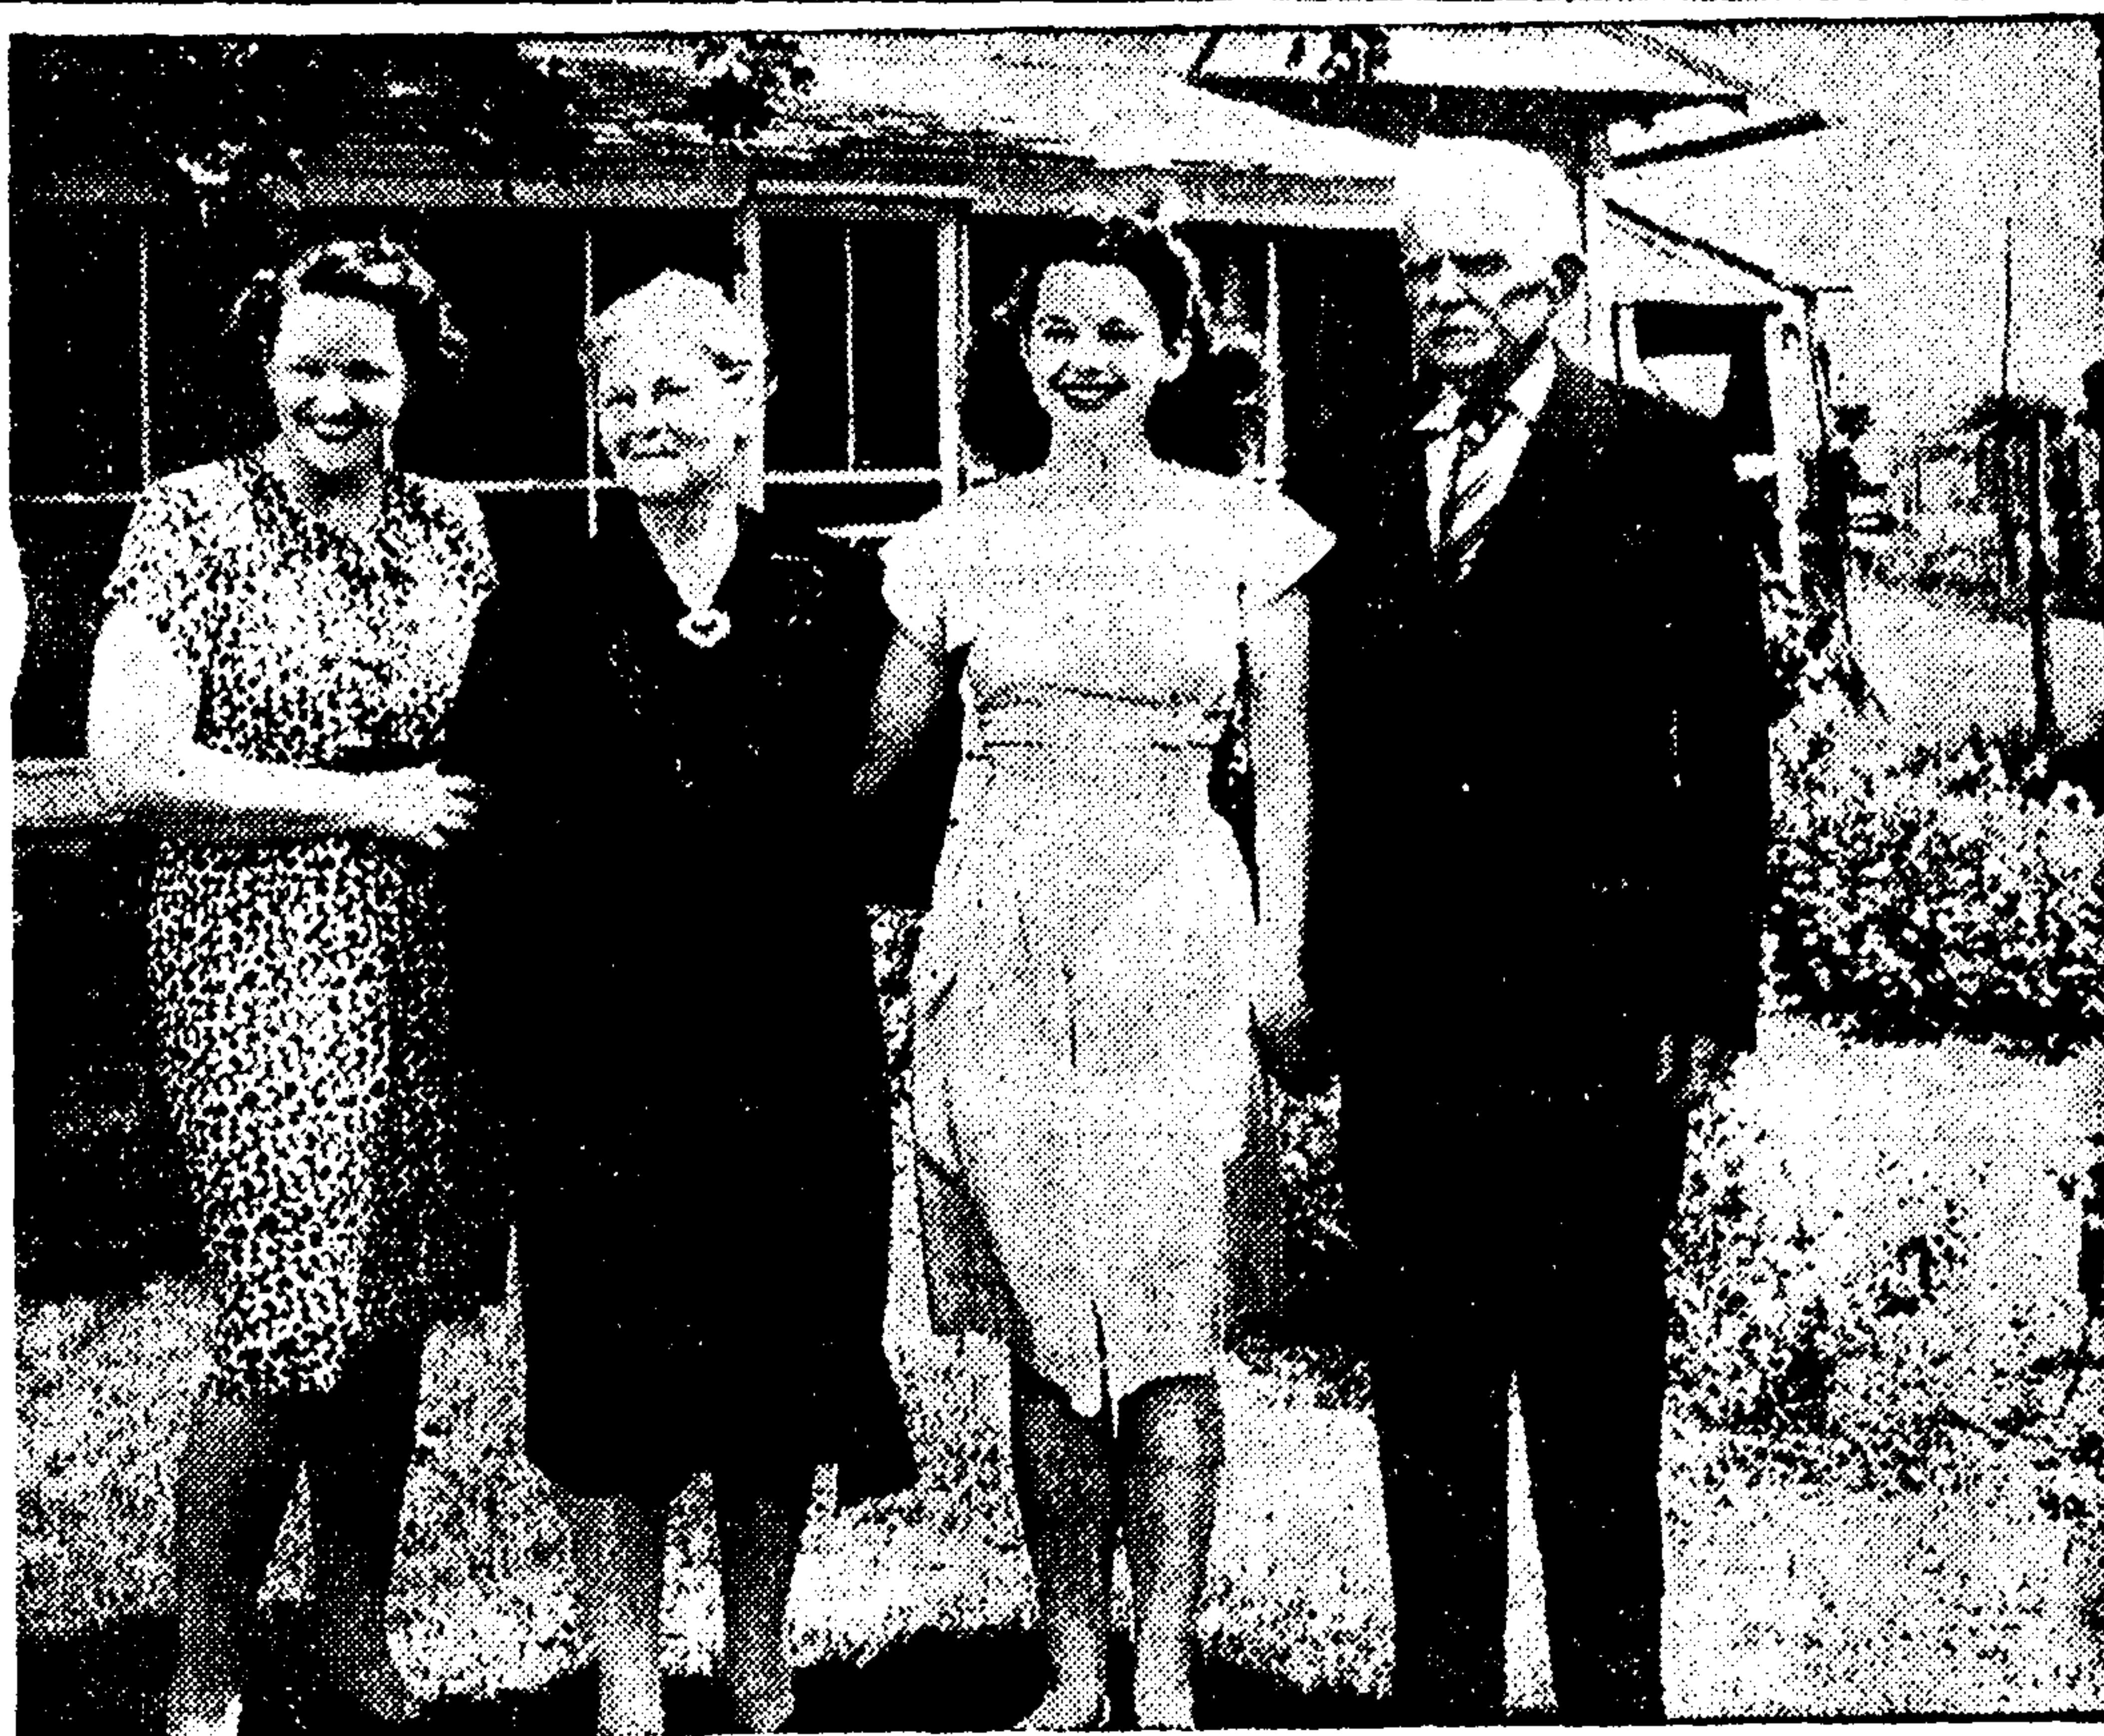

"Let history record this event in flaming letters as depicting new height of nobility in the relationship between two separate and distinct peoples of the earth," declared the general who orchestrated the Philippines. "Let history record this event in the sweep of democracy through the earth as fortelling the end of mastery of peoples by power of force alone."

MacArthur Cheered.

MacArthur's 10-minute address was delivered in a firm voice which betrayed traces of emotion. A ringing cheer came at the end of his salute to "this land and this people that I have known so long and loved so well."

As McNutt began his address a darkening sky yielded a light drizzle which in 10 minutes had become a tropical downpour.

A rain-drenched Old Glory was lowered slowly by McNutt as the huge throng stood silent, some brushing away tears. Then the red and blue flag of the Philippines, with its yellow sun in a field of white was raised by President Roxas to fly against a clearing sky.

Philippines Seem Sad. The bronzed faces of the thousands of Filipinos were indescribably sad.

"I feel sort of funny inside," murmured a young Filipino whose eyes glistened. "Like something within me has died."

The tension was broken with the sound of factory whistles and a thundering 21-gun salute from the U. S. Seventh Fleet task force riding in Manila Bay.

Manual Roxas, the dynamic, colorful leader of the Philippines Republic, stepped to the microphone.

Roxas Praises U. S.

"Any doubt which may still linger in some quarters of the earth as to the benign intentions of America should be removed by what she so nobly and successfully accomplished here," he told the cheering crowd. "We are a staging area for Democracy. In this part of the world."

Then McNutt and Roxas signed an agreement establishing diplomatic relations between the United States and the new republic.

The band of the 86th division played "The Star-Spangled Banner." More than 1,000 students sang the Philippines Independence Hymn.

The sun shone brightly.

BIG FOUR

Trieste Question Settled.

The Trieste question was settled on the basis of a six-point plan drafted by Byrnes and Vandenberg.

As adopted the plan provided that:

(1) Trieste and its environs, embracing an area with a population of about 400,000, be established as a "free territory." (2) The United Nations will assure the area's independence and integrity; (3) the United States, Britain, Russia and France will appoint a commission to confer with Italy and Yugoslavia on a status for the administration of Trieste which will be submitted to the U. N. Security Council for approval; (4) The peace conference will make recommendations to the new provisional government and the formation of the permanent statute; (5) The U. N. Security Council will appoint a governor for the area, which will have a legislature elected in a democratic manner by universal suffrage.

Colonies Agreement.

The question of the Italian colonies was settled on the basis of a three-point British proposal providing that:

(1) Italy will renounce all claim to sovereignty over the colonies; (2) The present administration will remain unchanged for a year; (3) During the year the four powers will try to work out a final solution of the disposition of the colonies and will send commissions to consult with the natives.

keep a sufficient military establishment to protect herself alone.

That would be intolerable and a nullification of one of the main hopes for which the United Nations stand.

This is among the problems that must be solved unless the United Nations is merely to police the small nations until the big powers have lined everything up for a fight among themselves.

ABILENE, July 4.—(AP)—Johnny Hackney, 18, of Abilene, was married to 20-year-old Dawn Bohmer of Vancouver, British Columbia, last night with 440-pound Justice of Peace W. A. Ward performing the ceremony by long distance telephone.

The vows terminated a 24-hour effort of the couple to get married by telephone.

The first trial came Tuesday night. Johnny waited five hours for telephone connection only to find no one at home on the other end of the line.

The second trial came yesterday at noon, after each had telegrams with different times for the marriage call. Dawn phoned Justice Ward, only to find Johnny left 15 minutes earlier.

The marrying justice took things in his hands. He told Dawn to put on her wedding gown and stand by at 7 p.m. He would have Johnny call at that time.

She did, and Johnny did—and they were married.

The ceremony took 50 seconds. When Johnny was a sailor he met Dawn, when she was a nurse in the Canadian Air Force, on a blind date in Seattle last October. Johnny expects to see his bride in a week or ten days.

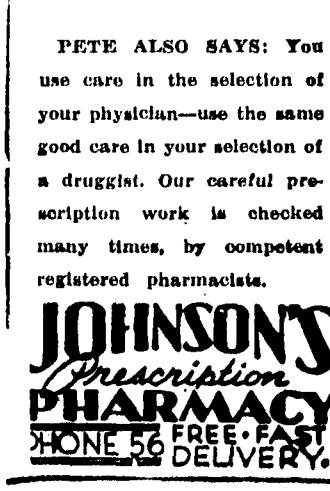

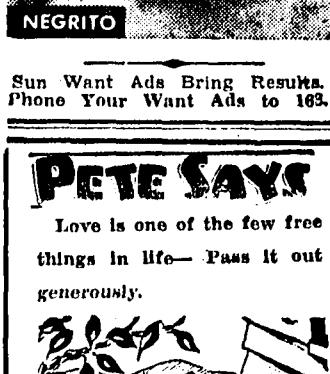

NUERNBERG, Germany, July 4—(AP)—The 21 German leaders on trial for war crimes opened their final plea for acquittal today, accusing Adolf Hitler of the entire guilt for their country's aggression.

Prof. Hermann Jähreiss presented the first of the defense summaries.

Jähreiss contended that the breach of peace was a matter between states and that individuals could not be tried and sentenced for it under existing law. He said all Germans simply were obeying their own law when they followed Hitler.

FOURTH OF JULY MEMORY

Then came this day a little boy
Hollered it. He's supremest joy
At 4 a. m. to quit his bed
And softly down the stairway creed.

With fireworks at the roadway's curb

All sleeping neighbors to disturb.

With smouldering punk, hour after hour,He loosed gunpowder's frightful power.He watched with wide and radiant eyes.To see how high tin cans would rise

When forced from "giant crackers" came.

Reigned in freedom's holy name.

Impatiently for weeks he'd wait

Our nation's birth to celebrate.

He saved his pennies for a stock

Of dazzling noise and fearful shock.

He thought it life's supreme delight.

The sputtering fuses to ignite.

But now, that little lad, grown gray.

Rises much later in the day,

And thinks, in graver mood, of boys

Who gave their lives for freedom's

joy;

And quietly he breathes a prayer

For freedom here, and everywhere.

WORLD WATCHES PARIS

As the Paris Conference

opened in Luxembourg Palace, in one of the most beautiful parts of the French city, the ministers appeared to be in a jovial mood. Officials from the United States,

Britain, France and Russia

greeted each other cordially and with handshakes. It was like a reunion of old friends.

The day-by-day reports from this meeting are being read by the whole world.

Progress in a conference of this sort is necessarily slow;

for a great mass of detail must be dealt with. But the men working there should know that the peoples of all countries wish them well and and take their work with the utmost seriousness.

It is one of the strong factors in building a permanent peace.

ENGLAND AND EGYPT

What is independence

for? The British and Egyptians have two different ideas, and the plans for a military alliance have struck a snag. The British would like to have Egypt's military forces fit into the British defense scheme for the Middle East, and to be available if there is an imminent threat of war. The Egyptians think that most threats of war would affect the British Empire rather than Egypt, and are not interested in giving the British a blank check on the use of Egyptian forces.

Protection of the Suez

Canal is, of course, what interests the British most. If some hostile power seized the canal, Egypt would probably not enjoy its new independence for long.

But Great Britain is having a hard time trying to sell this idea to the Egyptians.

It wouldn't be so bad if a kid could do his garden work without having other kids lean over the fence and ask, "Where have you been?"

Human nature operates so cheerfully that some day Americans may miss not having to stand in line.

Remember days when the Supreme Court was as sacred and venerable as the Constitution?

Evidently Cuba's fair sex has a larger clothes allowance than the American budget permits. Well, except for the relatively few black market patrons, most

American women would rather have less nylons, desirable though they be, and a little more money for other wardrobe items. Anyway

American legs look prett

good bare. So there.

RELIEVING SUSPICIONS

The United States did a friendly act the other day which did not attract much attention in this country, but will be widely noticed and remembered south of the border. Corinto, a Pacific base in Nicaragua, built by our forces during the war, has been formally turned back to the Nicaraguan government.

This will silence Central and South American skeptics who have been saying that when Uncle Sam settles down anywhere, he says there, and that the freedom of Nicaragua and her neighbors was imperiled. This action says louder than words, "Tain't so!"

NAVARRO, FREESTONE RESERVE OFFICERS MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

Navarro and Freestone county reserve officers met in official conference Tuesday night at the county courtroom with Lt. Col. G. E. Adams, Instructor, from Waco headquarters, leading the discussions.

Reviewing the history of the Organized Reserve Corps, he told the 27 reserve officers of the planned expansion of the corps, methods of advancement in rank, and information on permanent camp and field service for those in the reserves.

Stating there were approximately 2,500 reserve officers in the Waco district, which comprises 27 counties, the officer declared it was still possible for inactive officers to obtain reserve commissions. A new order just received announced the acceptance of flight officers as second lieutenants in the reserve. Further information may be obtained from the headquarters at Waco Army Air Field.

American Occupation Army Stages Show In Germany On "Fourth"

FRANKFURT, July 4.—(AP)—The American army of occupation in Germany staged its greatest post-war display of military might on the anniversary of America's independence today.

Scores of armored cars and tanks rumbled between columns of marching men as 6,000 troops paraded past Gen. Joseph T. McNarney at U. S. army headquarters while 200 planes swept overhead.

Similar displays in other major

German cities throughout the U. S. occupation zone marked the occasion.

After the parade, GIs relaxed at various recreations—fireworks, swimming, boating, golf, baseball games, track meets, dances and even a western-style rodeo.

VETERANS WARNED TO INVESTIGATE INSURANCE CHANGE

finding it difficult to make the payments. As of May 31, 1946, nearly 200,000 veterans had converted their policies. The Veterans Administration is now handling the world's largest volume of insurance protection outstanding with a record total of $50,000,000, Reeder declared.

Further information may be obtained at the Corsicana contact office at Room 206, State National Bank building.

worked for Judge Hardy and never several days and it would be very unsatisfactory. After he quit working for us, I went on his note to First National Bank for $500. He paid this down to $50, but owing to hard times I paid off balance. The note was out of date but "Bully" paid same to me in small monthly installments. This shows his honesty.

Since all policies issued prior to Jan. 1, 1946 do not have to be converted until eight years from date of issuance, the veteran should not be hasty in conversion to a permanent plan since there is liberalizing legislation pending in Congress today," the official advised.

"After being reasonably certain about his economic status, the veteran should select the type that will best fit his requirements, considering both protection to his family and ability to pay premiums."

Statistics show a great preponderance of 20 payment policy conversions, but many veterans are

IN THIS LAWLESS GENERATION WORLD NEEDS RETURN TO SINAI*

Basic Moral Law is Hope of Enduring Civilization - - Modern Disregard of Ten Commandments - - Jesus Confirms and Supplements Law.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

Over the fireplace in the living room of our home hangs an enlarged photograph of Mt. Sinai, which I obtained in Jerusalem. The picture symbolizes the dominion of our home by the law of God. And to me it recalls the unforgettable days I spent on and by the Mountain of the Law.

This is a wobbly world in a shaky era. Multitudes have turned their backs on the basic moralities of the Ten Commandments. They are the Law, forever true and forever binding. There would be no war or hunger in the world if people listened to the Voice from Mt. Sinai. Every pupil in every school should be required to commit to memory the Ten Commandments.

The Great Summary Undiscerning writers treat Jesus according to their own fancy, as an innovator and a radical and as a rebel against the Mosiac law. This is contrary to the record. He observed and taught obedience to the Decalogue, although He spurned man-made additions. His test, which He applied to the rich young man applying for membership in His band, was the Law of Moses.

But over and above the written Law Jesus insisted upon the paramountcy of love - - for God and for one's neighbor.

He demanded His throne rights of obedience and worship. He should be loved and adored - - yes, loved - - with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

The sovereignty of God is the basic tenet of the three monotheistic religions.

Clearly and repeatedly, the Lord enjoined upon His people the duty of training their children in the Law.

As our Lesson text says, "And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart; And thou shall teach them diligently unto thy children, and shall talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up."

There we have abundant warrant for all our Sunday School work, of Bible teaching in secular schools, of our Daily Vacation Bible schools, and so forth. A new respect for all laws follows a sense of responsibility to God's law. There can be no juvenile delinquency where God is revered and obeyed.

Loyal to the Federal Government is a natural tendency in religions to add regulations to essential teachings.

These have been done by the Hebrews and by the Christians. These accretions lay upon the people burdens too grievous to be borne.

There are two major aspects to the Ten Commandments. First and most important is right relationship with God. His place in a life is primary and determines other aspects. If God is put first, the things that are secondary will not be difficult.

These subordinate commandments deal with the attitude of man toward man, our human relationships. They are the Law, forever true and forever binding.

There would be no war or hunger in the world if people listened to the Voice from Mt. Sinai. Every pupil in every school should be required to commit to memory the Ten Commandments.

Manufacturers Of CHERRY RED BRICK and Retailers Of Lumber and Other Building Materials

--- OUR ATTITUDE TOWARD PRICES ---

1. AS MANUFACTURERS:

WE DO NOT CONTEMPLATE INCREASING PRICES.

2. AS RETAILERS:

WE DO NOT INTEND TO INCREASE OUR PRICES UNLESS FORCED TO DO SO BY THE MANUFACTURERS AND —OR JOBBERS WHO ARE OUR SUPPLIERS.

--- A FORECAST ---

We believe that you, the buying and consuming public, will soon be forced to pay more for lumber -- probably as much as $15.00 more per thousand board feet. The reason for this increase, as we see it, is as follows:

In 1942, OPA set a ceiling price on manufactured LUMBER based on the THEN prevailing price of TIMBER, which was around $7.50 or $8.00 per thousand feet. OPA did not then, or later, place a ceiling price on TIMBER. The price of TIMBER today is around $22.50 per thousand, or about three times what it was when ceiling prices were set on manufactured LUMBER.

True, the mills have been granted some small increases in their ceiling prices to take care of increased labor costs; but nothing to take care of this increased cost of TIMBER.

The Government, itself, is one of the largest holders and sellers of Timber. It sells this Timber to the highest bidder, and knows, or should know, that the mills cannot pay these prices for timber and sell lumber under the lumber ceilings and make a profit. This fact goes far to account for the scarcity of all legitimate Lumber.

Another thing -- After VJ Day, when all controls were removed -- except OPA -- the RAILROADS, who have done a swell job throughout the war, appealed to OPA for a ceiling price differential which would assure them a large supply of badly needed lumber. They were granted this differential, which, we understand, averages about $15.00 per thousand on the upper grades of lumber. THE RAILROADS ARE PERMITTED TO PAY THIS MUCH MORE FOR LUMBER THAN THE RETAIL LUMBER DEALER IS ALLOWED TO PAY.

(This is the reason that there has been no decent flooring, siding or finish lumber available -- even for GI HOUSING).

In view of the foregoing, we believe that you will, in all probability, see lumber advance in price.

We believe that you will also have to pay more for COMPOSITION SHINGLES.

The manufacturers of composition shingles have been granted only about 30c per square increase in price since OPA came into existence.

We have been SELLING Bird & Son's 210 lb. Square Butt MASTERBILT composition shingles for $6.30 per square. We believe that soon we will not be able to BUY them for that price.

The above inequities will probably be corrected.

WHITESELLE BRICK & LUMBER COMPANY has been serving the people of Corsicana and Navarro County since 1875. We are now selling to people to whose grand parents we sold in the past and to whose grandchildren we hope to sell in the future.

For this reason, we promise you that we will do everything that we can to hold prices down; so that it will not be necessary for the Congress to re-enact OPA legislation. We were FOR it in WAR; but we were darned TIRED of it in PEACE.

WE hope that we haven't bored you.

Miss Bettye Jean Bradley Of Rice Weds H. C. Jackson

RICE, July 5.—(Opl.)—In a twilight ceremony Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Bradley, their daughter, Miss Bettye Jean Bradley became the bride of Henry Charles Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jackson of Laredo. Father C. E. McTannay read the nuptial rites for the double ring service. For the recitation of the vows the couple stood before a decorated background of beaded white flowers in tall slender branched candelabra which were banked with woodwardia fern. Directly in front of this grouping were large wicker floor baskets which contained handsome arrangements of white gladioli and Dutch iris, interspersed with few sw. Pre-nuptial music was provided by Miss Jerienne Thompson of Corsicana. As this played "Prelude" by Bach, the tapers were lighted by Bobby Bradley and Billy Jackson, junior brothers of the bride and bridegroom. Miss Thompson also accompanied Miss Darrell Mabry of Keren, who sang "Because." The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. The service was concluded with the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by Miss Mary.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an original dress of aqua crepe. Her dress featured the new draped effect in both the bodice and the paplion of the skirt. A beautiful strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, was her jewelry. She wore in her hair a halo-type arrangement of gardenias and stephanotis. The bride carried a small satin bouquet which was woven with a single orchid around which were placed gardenias and stephanotis. Cascading from the bouquet was a wedding trip to Southern Texas.

Attendants

Maid of honor for the bride was Miss Mary Lou Bunn of Trinidad. She wore a dress of petal pink crepe and carried a nosegay of daisies, white Dutch iris and carnations. Bridesmaids were Misses Billye Bradley, Dalton, and Mary Jo Wilder, Wichita Falls.

The attractive bride was born and reared in Rice, where she received her early education. She graduated from Corsicana High school and attended North Texas State College, where she was active in music and social circles. The bridegroom, Darrelle Mabry, is a resident of Laredo.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Joseph Michael Jackson, as best man. Groomsmen were Hollis Hines, Dallas, and J. K. Bradley, Jr., brother of the bride.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home. Guests were greeted by the bride's parents, the bridegroom's mother and members of the bridal party. Decorations in the reception room were arrangements of daisies. The refreshment table was covered with an exquisite imported cloth of Swiss organdy and accented with linen.

Decorating the table was a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The cake was surrounded by greenery and garnishments and was flanked by crystal candle sconces holding white tapers and feathers. Mrs. Paul Jones, Denton, Miss Darrell Mabry and Jerienne Thompson alternated in serving the delicious frosted punch. Mess James B. Ratliff, Llano, Jack H. Wilder, Wichita Falls, and W. P. Ingram, Keren, assisted in the serving.

The wedding gifts were displayed in an adjoining room under the supervision of Mess James B. Ratliff, Llano, and W. P. Ingram, Keren, and L. C. Poston, Trinidad. Mrs. Denton, Mrs. J. C. Paxton, Terrell, Mrs. S. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bradley, Gladewater; Mrs. Jack H. Wilder and Miss Mary Jo Wilder, Wichita Falls, and Mrs. B. Ratliff, and Bryant, Llano.

Rehearsal Dinner. Preceding the rehearsal for their wedding, the bride and bridegroom were honored with a dinner party given by Hollis Hines, one of the groomsmen. The affair was held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hines in Trinidad.

Decorations followed the lines of the bride's chosen colors. The invitation list included the bridal party.

Rehearsal Dinner. Following the rehearsal Sunday afternoon, Mess James B. Ratliff, Llano, and R. D. Mabry, Keren, aunts of the bride, were co-hostesses for a tea. Guests included the bride and bridegroom, their parents, the bridal party and members of the house party for the wedding reception. During this delightful refreshment hour the bride and bridegroom presented their attendants lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Graham, 214 Main Street, have announced the birth of a son, Gary Boyd, Saturday evening at the Navarro Clinic. His birth weight was seven pounds. Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Boyd are the maternal grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Graham of San Juan are the paternal grandparents.
